

SEMINARY EDUCATION

Formation for Priestly Celibacy: A Resource Book by Rev. Thomas Krenik. This book is primarily for seminarians at the pre-theology and theologate levels to aid them in their initial and ongoing formation for priestly celibacy. 2002 2nd printing; 1999. 80pp. $10 NCEA member/$13 nonmember SEM-17-1219

Grace Under Pressure: What Gives Life To American Priests by Rev. James Walsh is a study of effective priests ordained ten to thirty years. This book documents the personal accounts of the images and symbols operative in the lives of priests selected from four regions in the United States and is considered effective and respected by the laity and other priests. Their responses to the following questions are presented: What gives life to your priesthood? How do you deal with the controversies facing the church today? How do you see your role as a man in American society? What advice would you give to seminary personnel today? 1999 6th printing; 1995. 118pp.

$6 SEM-17-1135

Ripe for the Harvest: A Resource for Formation Advisors, second edition, edited by Rev. James Walsh. A binder of articles basic to the ministry of formation covering such topics as: priestly identity, theology of priesthood, human formation, screening and testing, spirituality, liturgy and formation, celibacy, the priest of the future. 2000. 251pp. $39 SEM-17-1183

Seminarians in the Nineties—A National Study of Seminarians in Theology by Eugene Hemrick and Rev. James Walsh. The study was designed to better understand today's seminarian in light of a changing world and seminary life. A study underwritten by a grant from the Lilly Endowment. 1993. 79pp. $6 member/$8 nonmember SEM-17-1137

Readiness for Theological Studies: A Study of Faculty Perceptions on the Readiness of Seminarians by Rev. Eugene Hemrick

and Rev. Robert Wister. This publication was funded by the Lilly Endowment. 1993. 45pp.

$6 member/$8 nonmember SEM-17-1138

Seminary Journal is published three times a year, in the Spring, Fall, and Winter. NCEA Seminary Department dues entitle the member institutions to four copies of Seminary Journal, addressed to the President/Rector, the Academic Dean, the Director of Formation, and the Librarian. Additional copies may be ordered. $7.50 single issue; $20 year subscription (for international subscriptions add $20 postage.) All correspondence should be addressed to the Editor, Seminary Journal, NCEA Seminary Dept., Suite 100, 1077 30th St., NW, Washington DC 20007-3852 or tele: (202) 337-6232.